San Diego: Sun, Surf & More on the Pacific Coast

Explore the natural beauty and history of San Diego.

When you think of California’s beaches and warm climate, the Pacific Coast city of San Diego comes to mind. This eighth-largest US city has been called “the birthplace of California” and is fast becoming a healthcare development and biotechnology research center, thanks in part to the presence of the University of California, San Diego Medical Center.

Visitors, for their part, adore San Diego’s mild year-round climate, world famous attractions and friendly, easy-going downtown vibe. The following attractions will make your visit to San Diego feel like you’ve officially spent time in California.

La Jolla Shores & Sea Caves
La Jolla shores is a mile-long beach with soft sand, clean water and gentle waves, making it ideal for sun bathers and nascent surfers. It is consistently ranked one of the best family-friendly beaches in the United States with its grassy picnic areas, a cheerful playground and the nearby Kellogg Park. La Jolla shores also boasts fire pits and volleyball courts and offers a limited number of beach wheelchairs. Dogs are permitted before 9am and after 6pm (4pm winter months) daily.

La Jolla Sea Caves is an underwater marine preserve consisting of 7 sister caves formed from a 75-million-year-old sandstone cliff. This seaside cavern is replete with sightings of seals, sea lions, dolphins, pelicans, (gentle) leopard sharks and other wildlife. The caves are situated in one of the most beautiful settings, with picturesque Torrey Pines State Park’s Cliffs and La Jolla as its backdrops. Kayaking tours for cave exploration are available year-round for all skill levels, given optimal ocean conditions. La Jolla Coast Walk trail offers hiking from La Jolla Shores beach to La Jolla Cove.

As if the abundant outdoor activities weren’t enough, La Jolla also has a beautiful seaside village with opportunities for shopping and dining for every budget. You can easily make a day of the “Jewel City” and experience everything it has to offer.

The Park also offers multiple attractions like art studios, carousel ride and a mini railroad. It is home to fifteen major museums such as Marston House, Centro Cultural de la Raza and Fleet Science Center. Mission Beach/Coronado Beach
The classic boardwalk beach with almost two miles of oceanfront boardwalk, Mission Beach offers rental shops, miniature golf, bumper cars, rock climbing and an arcade. Belmont Park, an amusement park on the boardwalk featuring the Giant Dipper Roller Coaster is a main attraction for the millennial crowd with plenty of bars and a hot nightlife scene. Walking, jogging and biking are permitted on the boardwalk. Surfing, boogie boarding and kite-boarding are also popular activities.

For a more romantic or family-friendly beach setting, Coronado’s long sandy beaches are just the ticket. Consistently voted one of America’s finest beaches, the sand literally sparkles thanks to mineral mica. Take a stroll along Orange Avenue’s shops and restaurants with a backdrop of homes and mansions and the Hotel del Coronado (featured in Marilyn Monroe’s 1958 film “Some Like It Hot”). Gaslamp Quarter

The Gaslamp Quarter is a historic 16½ block district in Downtown San Diego near the Convention Center. The Gaslamps became a symbol of the district during its redevelopment in the 1980s despite their not being the main source of lighting. Formerly known as New Town, it is the site of numerous entertainment and nightlife venues, festivals and other events, including Mardi Gras, Taste of Gaslamp and Street Scene Music Festival. Much of the architecture of the district date back to the Victorian Era and are still used today by tenants who operate restaurants, shops and nightclubs.

In the heart of Gaslamp is Michael J. Wolfe Fine Arts. It has been the premiere location for original works and fine arts exhibits from international, national and up-and-coming local artists for almost 20 years. Gaslamp District also has theatres offering entertainment from movies to musical acts and dining at restaurants ranging from hip to high end.

Gaslamp Quarter celebrates its 150th anniversary this year. Join the celebration with a walking tour and hear stories of the past.

Torrey Pines State Reserve

Hiking trails, plants and animals abound in this geological wonder located in La Jolla. This Natural Reserve is 2,000 acres of the wildest land on the California Coast, with 1,500 acres remaining as it was before San Diego was even developed! It gives you an idea of how the Kumeyaay people, California’s original inhabitants, lived on the unspoiled lands and how it must have looked to early settlers. Visitors the world over go to Torrey Pines to enjoy the breathtaking overlooks, to walk the trail or to generally be at one with nature. Because Torrey Pines is a natural reserve, there are restrictions in place to protect the beaches, the lands, the plants and the animals that inhabit them. No food or drinks are permitted (no trash cans are provided to drive home this rule). No pets are allowed anywhere in the reserve. Groups of 25 or more visitors must obtain a permit to be on the land.

The average medical school student graduates with medical school debt of more than $183,000. Over ten years, at an average rate of 6% interest, this debt can total upwards of $295,000. Add this debt to the costs of malpractice insurance and running a private medical practice, not to speak of the cost of living and any outstanding undergraduate debt. Factor in the decline in medical reimbursements and you can see that medical school debt can be quite a burden for a physician just starting out. The Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) reports the average starting salary for a first-year resident was just over $52,000 a year in 2015.

Paying down this kind of debt can be difficult, but not impossible. There are several options for you to save money and make a dent in your student debt load. To pay down debt quickly and efficiently, here are some practical steps that medical professionals can take.

Use Your Signing Bonus to Make a Lump Sum Payment

Making a lump sum payment on student loan principal is a highly effective strategy for immediately reducing interest on the loan. Physicians can negotiate a signing bonus into their employment contract. According to Modern Medicine Network, signing bonuses are becoming standard practice given the current shortage of physicians. Bonuses can be anywhere from $20,000 to as high as $200,000 in special cases, according to Dallas-based Medicus Firm. Signing bonuses have gone to 74-88% of physicians, with most physicians receiving a five-figure bonus. If you can negotiate a large signing bonus, using it can go a long way to knocking down your overall student loan debt and the interest you will owe over time.

Example: Applying a $25,000 bonus to a $183,000 loan principle can reduce interest paid over time by $19,200.

Think About Refinancing Your Student Loans

Physicians who have good credit and a secure job should consider the savings benefits of refinancing student loan debt. Benefits of refinancing include lower monthly payments, savings on interest payments and paying off your student loan debt faster. Also, any co-signee can be removed once the loan is with a new lender. Refinancing only makes sense if the interest rate offered is much lower than your student loan interest rate because it can amount to significant savings over the life of the loan. You’ll lose the benefits of your federal student loans, like the ability to defer payments if for some reason, you find yourself without employment. You would also not be eligible for Loan Forgiveness or for Income-Based Repayment plans.

Example: Refinancing a $183,000 loan from a 6% federal loan to a 2.5% private loan can amount to savings of more than $68,000 in interest fees over 10 years.

Switch To a Manageable Payment Plan

Repayment programs are an ideal option for physicians who don’t make a lot of money and carry a large amount of debt. A monthly payment of over $2000 a month can be quite a stretch for a new physician. The programs allow loan payments to remain in proportion to discretionary income. Payment options such as Income Based Repayment (IBR) or the Pay As You Earn (PAYE) are popular because they help keep monthly payments affordable. Under PAYE, monthly payments for first year resident could be as low as $290 a month, according to the AAMC.

There are four federal income based repayment plans: Income Based Repayment (payments capped at 10-15% of your discretionary income), Income Contingent Repayment (partial financial hardship assistance if the loan payments exceed 15% of discretionary income), Pay as You Earn (limits payments to 10% of discretionary income if you qualify), and Revised Pay as you Earn (like ICR, plus eligible for undergraduate loan forgiveness after 20 years of eligible payments). Having a more manageable repayment plan can be welcome relief to a new physician making a modest income.

Note: Under the REPAYE plan, any interest not covered by your monthly payment on subsidized loans will be paid by the Department of Education for up to three years.

Consider Working in an Underserved Community

There are several programs on the state and federal level that provide loan forgiveness. Most require working in a Health Shortage Area (areas with underserved populations or where healthcare is inaccessible). Georgia Physician Loan Repayment Program, for example, sends physicians to underserved communities, repaying up to $25,000 a year for a maximum of four years. The Health Professions Loan Repayment Program in California grants physicians up to $50,000 for a two-year commitment of service in a medically underserved area (MUA).

The Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program offers federal loan forgiveness to physicians who qualify. The areas in need of medical care are usually economically depressed, under-resourced regions or areas that are undesirable to live in. But if you qualify and have the patience and compassion to commit your time to an area in desperate need you will be rewarded with more than a significantly reduced debt load. (Be aware that many not-for-profit organizations employ physicians through for profit physician organizations, making a physician ineligible for loan forgiveness.)

Example: Under a Loan Forgiveness Program, forgiveness of a $183,000 can be as much as $276,000 for an income based repayment (IBR) plan or as much as $281,000 for a pay as you earn (PAYE) repayment plan over 10 years.

Paying down medical student loan debt can be a challenging task. The good news is that physicians are currently in such high demand that there are numerous options available to help make paying down student loan debt a reality. For a comprehensive guide to your student debt reduction options, StudentLoanHero.com is a great resource to start your search.

Age-Proof Your CV: How to Compete in Today’s Job Market

Why ageism has become a reality for physicians & what to do about it.

Ageism is a major challenge in every industry and medicine is no exception. Now more than ever, it’s important that you do all you can to protect yourself. Today, having too much experience can be detrimental to your job prospects. According to a 2015 AARP Public Policy Institute study, a non-government organization for people aged 50 years and older, age discrimination has become the most prevalent discrimination in the workplace. Surveys on workplace age discrimination reveal that more than 60% of workers have experienced or at least witnessed age discrimination. “Most people won’t even interview you at my age,” says Joseph Heether, MD, a General Surgeon with over 28 years of experience. “I would talk to a hospital recruiter who says my CV and record look great, then never get a call from the hospital they were forwarded to. I never thought my age would be a problem in my profession.”

Age-proofing your CV is a necessity.

In addition to age, older workers are also at a numbers disadvantage which further exacerbates the problem. There are 89 million millennials (born 1981 through 1996) and 49 million Generation Xers (born 1965 through 1980) compared to 75 million baby boomers (born 1946 through 1964). Yet labor participation rate for those aged 55 to 64 is only around 65% while the rate is over 81% for those aged 25 to 54. Add to that the cost analyses companies engage in when making hiring decisions. The greater experience and higher salary requirements of an older doctor makes them expensive to companies looking to retire older and hire younger. “(Companies) are hesitant to take a chance on you when you’re older,” notes Heether. “They’re afraid you may not want to work for the money they’re offering. They figure also you may only be able to give them at most 10 years.”

What Can You Do?

The first order of business as a job-seeker – get the interview. Your CV should not be more than 2 pages long and it is important you limit your experience to the past 10 years. Going back any further will date you. It’s also best if you exclude the years you graduated from college and medical school. The Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA) prohibits age discrimination against people 40 and older, but it persists and is insidiously widespread.

Is It Your Age or Your Salary?

If you’ve made it through the initial screenings because you edited your CV, you could end up sitting across from a hiring manager who is not much older than your child with a mandate to hire based on an unofficial profile. At this point, being transparent is advisable. Remember, it is illegal to discriminate against an applicant 40 or older, so it may be difficult to tell whether any objection is to your age or to your higher salary requirement. Use the opportunity to overcome their prepared list of objections. Talk about the value your experience will bring and be one step ahead. Make it clear to the interviewer that your qualifications fit the profile and that you have no disqualifying health issues. You can suggest being brought on at the higher end of the salary range. You want to drive home the point that you’re happy to come on board in a way that’s comfortable for them. Getting your foot in the door is what matters most; it’s much easier to discuss future opportunities for review and compensation when you’re already in and can... demonstrate the value you bring to the job.

Be More Than a Commodity

Try to think like a hiring manager. Return on investment, cost savings, and how you can add value to the position should be the focus of how you sell yourself. It’s not enough anymore to have been in one place for 20 years. In addition, thoroughly research a company, talk to people inside and outside the company and learn exactly what they are looking for to tailor your presentation. You may not be able to do anything about a few gray hairs, but there are other areas you can control and cut a job search from months down to weeks.

You’ll probably be interested to know that after several weeks of searching, Dr. Heether landed a position at a new facility in Southern New Jersey.
